COUNCIL AGREES ON WORTH CITY BUILDING CODE

But Wants Assurance It Is Desired by Dixon Citizens

Members of the city council agreed unanimously with about 30 building tradesmen and union officials last evening that the city of Dixon is sorely in need of a building code, but the commission questioned whether or not the citizens desire such protection. The entire one hour session of the council was given over to a forum at which the necessity for a code was discussed. There was no opposition to the re-enactment of such a measure by the council for the protection of the builder, as well as the citizen.

Contractors agreed that an lives and injured 139 persons, ofaverage of 75 per cent of the citi- ficials announced today. zens of Dixon are not acquainted with construction specifications, and all present were unanimous in the statement that home-owners passenger train and a freight had been infringed upon and faulty train struck head-on at top speed. construction was being foisted upon them by outside contractors.

Allied warships were reported put on the alert today for a concerted dash home by German merchantmen to ease the pinch of the blockade. In the Finnish-Russian hostilities the Finns capitalized on Russian reverses to launch their first major counter-offensive on the Karelian isthmus while pounding the invaders on the central front and consolidating recaptured ground in the north.

Unconfirmed reports circulated in Moscow that Gen. K. A. Meretskoff had been relieved as comman der of the forces invading Finland.

At the same time a red army communique offered the explanation that the failure to advance rapidly against the Finns was due to the "most serious difficulties" presented by natural and manmade defenses in Finland. It also gibed at British and French "fumbling" against the Siegfried

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. LEARNING TO UNMASK PROPAGANDA

Strip propaganda to its naked shell and it becomes as obvious and undeceiving as the spiel of a circus barker. To be successful, it must be disguised as truth.

If everyone recognized propaganda when he saw it, this weapon would become impotent, utterly useless. The difficulty is that sometimes its disguise is pretty clever and can time because she must spend her leaned forward. LABOR BOARD UNDER SPOTLIGHT

Serious charges are being made against the national labor relations board in a congressionalinvestigation at Washington. Boiled down, it appears that the chief fault found with the board is that it is a quasi-judicial body in the newly devised German-super- to spend a Merry Christmas as weeks. which decisions may be made according to the personal inclinations or bias of the board members without regard to ing craft which Goering is just it, so why don't we all. the letter or spirit of the law.

"I am enclosing herewith a copy of a letter sent by our Mr. Anderson to the Aronsson Printing company. This is a weak case and we are trying to break down Aronsson rath-

"This is a weak case, and we are trying to break down the defendant rather than go to trial.'

Among the board's severest critics is William M. Leiserson, a new member. We do not agree with Mr. Leiserson that the labor law needs no important changes. According to the American tradition cases concerning law violations should be tried in regularly established courts, and not by a board which acts as its own prosecutor, jury and judge.

Mr. Leiserson feels that an unbiased board could make the law workable, but just why we should have recourse to an unbiased board instead of to unbiased courts has not been explained.

THESE CONFLICTING CLAIMS

When we read German claims that thirty-four British airplanes were shot down in an air battle in which only two German planes were destroyed, it appears that the Germans got the best of it. But that impression lasts only until we read the British claim that twelve Germans were down in the same battle, and only seven British ships were winged. Obviously, someone can't count reliably.

God isn't necessarily on the side of the biggest liar. Getting at the truth in this war may take a long time, but truth will out. All the layman has to do is remember that the Germans claimed some 10,000 airplanes at the start of the war, and the British around 4,500. Each side claims to be able to produce 500 new planes a month. Eventually all the original planes will be shot down, according to the propagandists, and we will need to keep track only of the replacements. It is a complicated process, but Mr. Einstein no doubt will show a way to do it.

EVERYONE

As we look back over the year just past we fully realize the factors that have combined to make possible such an enjoyable year. We can think of any number of instances where your friendship and your influence have been of tremendous benefit to this institution and it is with this thought in our hearts that we stop for a moment at this happy Yuletide to wish you all the joys of the season. We hope that your every Christmas wish will be granted, that this will be a most happy occasion for you and yours.

SCORING ABILITY MISSING AS DUKES BOW TO STERLING

Lightweights Trounce the Hosts in Opener Last Night, 25 to 12

As far as the Dixon Dukes are concerned there just "ain't no" Santa Claus!

Last night the local high school quintet invaded the Sterling court and prevented their own holiday cheer when they dropped the decision to the Township team, 27 to 25, in a breath-taking North Central conference encounter.

The Dixon team looked a little like a week-old Christmas tree with all its needles gone. The only tinsel left to sparkle a club which a week age defeated Belvidere were the smooth floor operations of Bill Shultz, who was largely responsible for Dixon's possession of the ball, and a couple of long swish shots by Bill Witzleb. Outside of that the ornaments were broken or missing.

This first-you're-up-and-thenyou're-down game of basketball found the Coach Sharpe's boys on the down grade last night as they allowed Sterling to carry the play to them and abandoned the defensive style, they used to break the tion, the Dukes permitted the Ridge, g Sterling players to get set in an attack they should have been able to smother. Not to discredit the Hidden, g Brandau-men (they won, didn't they?) Dixon should have captured that ball game last night if a lumbering style had not bogged them down through much of the first half.

They were head and shoulders over most of the Sterling players Wienman, g and yet failed, quite often, to cap-McNamara, f ture the rebounds and the aggressive hosts were quick in taking the ball away from the Dukes as they charged down the floor.

All is not pessimism, Dixon has a potentially good team. Some of the talent may be on the bench. One thing is certain: scoring must be developed and basket-shooting improved if the Dukes would go far in the still-early season.

Next week the locals will be hosts to Freeport here on Wednesday-and should come through creditably. The hectic battle, fought with sound and fury began with Kelly's shot under the basket followed by the knotting plunge shot by Brown. Sterling crept into the lead with Woodyatt's basket and Kelly scored on Ridge's foul.

Dixon tied the score with Bugg's success from the gift line on Griesser's infraction and went into the lead with Kelly's plunge shot. Sterling evened the score at the end of the first canto with Griesser's long shot.

There's some mighty fine material on that lightweight team which should give the heavyweights a run for their money in the race for varsity positions before the season is too old.

Finstance, Moser scored a total of nine points as high scorer of the evening and the minors, unlike their bigger brothers, carried the play into the Sterling territory, aggressive to the very end.

Dixon Takes Lead

Dixon took the lead in the first quarter, 10 to 3, with three field goals by Moser and one apiece by

McNamera and Kelchner. In the second period Moser, Kelchner and McGrahan each scored buckets for the locals while Moser added a free toss for good measure. Sterling was held score-
